

REPUBLICAN PARADE.

New York City Turns Itself Loose Again.

A WET MONSTER PROCESSION.

The Business Men and Trades Have a Parade and Demonstration—No Wonder He Dropped Dead.

NEW YORK, November 3.—Lower Broadway was thronged with people this afternoon to witness the start of the Republican parade of business men. The weather was much the same as that of last Saturday, when the Democratic business men paraded. The rain came pouring down steadily from out a leaden sky, but this did not seem in any way to dampen the ardor of the parade. Promptly at 1 o'clock the procession moved with Grand Marshall Mitchell at the head. The American flag was omnipresent in the ranks of the paraders and on the buildings and windows along the route of the procession. Multitudes of people thronged the route and crowds of sight-seers stood on the roofs, in the windows and doorways and cheered the different organizations as they passed, and the paraders frequently joined in. Immediately behind the marshal came a string of twelve horses in double line, drawing a truck bearing

A MODEL OF A STEAMSHIP VESSEL, which was intended to represent the Dolphin, which was at first declared to be unacceptable to the government, but is now considered one of the best vessels in the navy for coast defense. Alongside the model were seventy-five men in seamen's uniform. They came from the dock yards of the line of Havanna steamships, and carried a banner inscribed "The Democrats killed John Ketch, but his spirit goes marching on." One of the most striking and unique features of the parade was the appearance made by the Americans Club, of Pittsburgh. There were 275 men in line. The men wore tweed suits and white hats and each carried an umbrella, the outside of which was stars while the ribs were alternately red, white and blue, thus

MAKING THE NATIONAL FLAG. When they wheeled out of Liberty Street to take their place in the parade behind the Philadelphia clubs, they were preceded by a standard inscribed "Pennsylvania is at your back." When the Wall Street business swung into Broadway from that street, headed by the Seventh Regiment Band, there was a big shout from the crowd that lined either side of the street. First came the Coffee Exchange, followed by tobacco men; every man of the latter had the leaf of a tobacco plant suspended to the lapel of his coat or a mammoth plug suspended from his neck. The Brokers' Club

WAS ONE OF THE FEATURES of the parade. Each man carried a cane to which was attached a small American flag. Then came the members of the Consolidated Exchange; the other associations filing into Broadway being the Produce and Merchants' Exchange, Custom House Brokers, Cotton Exchange, the A. R. Whitney Bowling Green Harrison and Norton Protective Association and the coal trade. Then came the others in the following order: Lawyers from Pine Street, insurance men from Cedar Street, and machinery and railroad supply men from Liberty Street, jewelers from Maiden Lane, wholesale drug and chemical and paint trade; leather trade; wholesale boot and shoe trade; hardware trade; West Side Merchants' and War Veterans' Association; paper and associated trades; booksellers; carpenters and steamship trade; dry goods clerks; Columbia College students; hatters, furriers and straw goods; wholesale milliners, gas fixtures, upholsterers, East Side business men in building material; Up-Town's Business Men's Association; New York University's students; dental students. Above Chambers Street

THE SCENE BEGINS DESCRIPTION. Crowds obstructed the sidewalks, and the windows of the tall buildings on both sides of Broadway were filled with spectators. In Chamber's Street, for many blocks above marching clubs waited for over two hours after the head of the procession had passed them before their right was uncovered by organizations starting further down town. In fact, the extreme left of the line was not in motion until after 5 o'clock. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed all along the line. Here and there in the glittering display of stars and stripes and Republican insignia were occasionally the Democratic decorations of bandannas, papers bearing Chinese characters and pictures of President Cleveland. The paraders flouted their little American flags and

HISSED AT THE BANDANNAS and groaned at the portraits of the Democratic candidates. At the headquarters of the National Republican Committee profusely decorated banners bearing the portraits of their candidates waved over the cheering thousands. Messrs. Warner, Miller and son, Levi P. Morton, Colonel Kruger and General John O. Fremont reviewed the parade from a stand at the Worth monument, Madison Square, while Hon. James G. Blaine watched the pageant from one of the windows of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and afterwards expressed regret he being unable to get to the reviewing stand. It is estimated that at least 50,000 men participated in the parade. While approaching the reviewing stand Broker John Burns dropped dead, and was borne away. Shortly after reaching the reviewing stand the parade was disbanded.

They Only Want 600,000 Acres.
SANTA FE, N. M., November 3.—A man named Hodges has notified Surveyor-General Julian that he and his brothers and sisters are the rightful owners of a tract of land, thirty-five miles square, containing 600,000 acres, in Colfax County, New Mexico. The title to this vast territory is claimed under a grant alleged to have been made by the Crown of Spain in 1835 to the present claimants' natural ancestors, who bore the peculiar name of Quesada Christi. The land claimed is located in the vicinity of the towns of Raton, Springer, and Folsom, and probably includes the last two named. A portion of the Maxwell grant and a large number of the claims of settlers are jeopardized by this grant.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Instructing the Inspectors at the Polls—Etc.
INDIANAPOLIS, November 3.—General Harrison has an unusually large number of callers to-day. The better part of the day was put in by the General in answering his voluminous letters. Among his replies was one to three Rector boys who sent him a jack rabbit yesterday. He was solicited for a copy, which reads:

My Dear Little Friends—Your letter of October 31st, telling me you intend to send me a jack rabbit for luck, has been received. If there is any luck in a rabbit's foot, as so many colored people in the south are said to believe, then I think your argument that there must be more luck in a whole rabbit is not a "nonsequiter"—you can ask your father to explain what that means. The rabbit came yesterday, and furnished a good deal of amusement to my little grandson. In the last number of Judge there is an illustration of what happened to a little boy who had a jack rabbit presented to him, which will amuse you, I think. With kind regards for you all, I am,

Very truly yours,
B. F. HARRISON.

The chairman of the Democratic central committee sent a letter to each Democratic chairman, of which the following is a copy:

DO NOT VOTE DOUBLE TICKETS.
Tuesday, The Journal this morning contains full instructions how such a thing can be done. The article professes to charge the Democrats with this, but we believe the real object is to instruct the Republicans how to commit this fraud.

The Republican committee early in the day sent the following letter to each county chairman:

Democrats in your county are planning to have double votes cast. No mistake about this! Warn our people, quick! Let the ballots be challenged. Print and put up posters at all voting places offering a reward of $100 by this committee for the apprehension and conviction of each man who votes a double ticket. Print a copy of our ticket and post at voting places. Force the fighting now.

ANOTHER LETTER.
The Republican committee also, this evening, mailed a notice to every town and city in the State addressed to the public, announcing a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of every one who at the coming elections votes or attempts to vote more than one ticket, circulates false and seditious Republican tickets, alters, forges or mutilates tally sheets, the days' election returns or changes the ballot box, and the committee calls upon every good citizen to see that the laws are strictly enforced, and a free ballot and free count secured.

BLAINE MUMBLES.
Brooklyn is the Knight's Latest Victim—What we Did for the Country.

NEW YORK, November 3.—The Republican campaign in Brooklyn closed to-night at Clearmont Avenue Link, with a speech by Hon. James G. Blaine, under the auspices of the organization of Irish Protectionists. The structure has a capacity to accommodate 5,000 persons, and they were there, and more too. Hundreds were unable to gain admission. Judge Rooney presided and was about to make a speech when he was out short by shouts for Mr. Blaine, who advanced and substantially said as follows: I did not come here to-night to make a lengthy speech, but briefly to sum up the case. Are you in favor of a protective tariff? (Cries "yes yes") Then vote for Harrison (cries "we will") Are you in favor of paying pensions to deserving soldiers? (Cries of "yes") Then vote for Harrison. (Cries of "we will") Are you in favor of the President using the veto as if he was a voter in the Senate or House? (Cries of "yes we are.")

THEN VOTE AGAINST CLEVELAND.
(Cries of "we will.") Are you in favor of a thorough American system through and through? (Cries of "we are.") Then vote for Harrison. Are you in favor of using the surplus in the Treasury of the United States to reduce the public debt? (Shouts of "yes.") Then vote for Harrison. ("Yes we will.") Are you against taking $60,000,000 out of the public Treasury and loaning it to favorites without interest? (Cries of "no.") Well, I have something more to say on that point. I have learned something since I last spoke on it. Not only have they taken $60,000,000 and loaned it to pet houses in the United States, but they have done it through the agency of a bank established by Mr. Jordan and by the late Mr. Manning. They have made them

A SORT OF GOVERNMENT BUREAU.
They gave them $11,000,000 as a fixed balance to call their own, and then they have allowed them to peddle out this $60,000,000 to other banks and by that means tried to get a large number of banks throughout the country to give them their entire business, and I say Louis XIV. of France, or Peter the Great of Russia, or Napoleon at his most absolute period, would never have dared to treat the treasury of their respective countries in that way, never (cheers), and I wonder that it has not made in this country. It has been said by such papers as the New York Times and Evening Post that Secretary Sherman did the same thing. Well, I have been denying that for a good while and this morning I received a letter from Secretary Sherman himself and he explains exactly the difference. When Secretary Sherman made that marvelous loan of 4 per cent. in 1879, they were sold through the banks and paid for over the banks' counters. The money was merely in transit between the man who paid for the four and the man who got his pay for the surrendered lives and sixes. But these men have taken money that was in the Treasury, and against every provision of the law, have dipped their hands into it up to their elbows, and helped their friends. The most corrupt thing you can conceive of is to take money out of the government Treasury and give it to the banks who can use it and use their influence for the party in power.

I saw to my regret in a paper an accusation made that the extradition treaty had been injuriously amended by the Republican committee, and reported to the Senate by a Republican.

I STATE POSITIVELY, and state of my own knowledge that there is not one particle of foundation for that allegation, and that, like the fishery treaty, which surrendered our rights in the fisheries, this extradition treaty is supported in the Senate by Democratic Senators and by them alone. (Applause.)

Referring to the Republican parade which he witnessed to-day, Mr. Blaine said: It was the most mighty political procession that ever trod the streets of New York, (applause), and compared with those which the President of the United States came here last week to review, that was picket guard to the Republican army; and gentlemen that procession is prophetic. It means that the people of New York are aroused not on the old party lines, not in the old fashioned fight between the Democrats and Republicans but a fight between protectionists and anti-protectionists; a fight between protection and free trade. (Prolonged cheers.)

A TELEGRAM FROM HARRISON.
Before the people were dismissed this telegram was read:

INDIANAPOLIS, November 3.
W. H. Gray, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Please express to the Irish-American Protectionists Association what my sincere thanks for their cordial greeting and hopeful prophecies. The independence of spirit and devotion to principle which they have shown to this campaign has been as conspicuous as they are creditable to their intelligence and manhood.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

ANOTHER MEETING.

After this meeting, Blaine was driven to a mass meeting in the Grand Army hall in the Eastern District in Brooklyn, where he made a short speech, saying in part: "We must stand together in this election. This election carries the flag of the Union instead of a dirty bandana, for without any respect to the candidate for vice-President, I think one of the most extraordinary campaign badges is a pocket handkerchief. That is what a snuff-taker uses in his extremity. Yes, I prefer the great banner of the United States which was borne up Great Avenue of New York by 60,000 people, and under that flag and under the flag of protection, we shall win a victory on Tuesday next."

After this speech, Mr. Blaine was conducted to the skating rink in the outskirts of the city. His fatigue was apparent and he spoke but a few remarks.

BEFORE ALL THE COURTS.

Estate of Thomas Davis, same action taken on petition of Priscilla Davis Charles.

POLICE COURT.

Yesterday was a day of plain drunks in the Police Court. B. G. Fox, George Graham, William Ottenger and Eph Kelly each pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and each was fined $5. Henry Lloyd, a vag and common drunk, was assessed $10.

THE "OLD ROMAN."

He Hits Straight From the Shoulder.

HE EXPLAINS THE PROTECTION.

Judge Thurman in a Common Sense Speech to a Large Audience—Rough on West.

NELSON, O., November 3.—This morning city, with 6,000 inhabitants, gave Judge Thurman an enthusiastic welcome, and to its population was added a great number from outside the place. When the Judge mounted the stand at 2 o'clock, probably 9,000 people were massed in the vicinity, and he was greeted with great applause. He spoke briefly upon the subject of the tariff, and then turned to the subject of capital and labor. He said, in part: First—I am not here to breed discontent; I am not here to set the employer against the laborer, or the laboring man against the employer; I am here simply to preach justice on all hands, and that every man shall have an honest and fair reward for his labor. There is an annual accumulation of the wealth of the world, and that accumulation is wholly—I repeat it and emphasize the word—is wholly the result of human labor. There is not

A WRITER OF POLITICAL ECONOMY,
whosoever wrote a line on this subject that was worth reading, that has not affirmed this truth. We know it to perfection. When the difficulty about the production of wealth is solved, there is another question, that is more difficult by far, and that is the question of the distribution of wealth. This is the great problem that agitates society all over the Christian world. This annual product of wealth is distributed between three classes of men. First, the capitalist who lends the money to carry on the business, and if he charges a reasonable rate nobody complains. Next comes the manufacturer or employer, who is also entitled to a fair reward. If he is contented with a fair and honest profit no one begrudges him these profits. Lastly, we come to the laboring man—the man whose brawny arms, level head and skill enables him to

PILE UP THE WEALTH,
and the man is entitled to his reward, or the scriptures are a lie. Our opponents are accustomed to sneer at what they call political economy. They sneer at science and scientific men as if science was anything in the world but the truth. If these men will sneer at science, will they sneer at the words of the Almighty God Himself, who has declared that the laborer is worthy of his hire? The speaker said the sentence that "in the sweat of thy face shalt thou earn thy daily bread," was the greatest benediction ever conferred upon mankind, as it made men industrious, intelligent and saved him from being a poor miserable loafer. I therefore say that the laboring man is entitled to his reasonable hire and if he does not receive it he is a wronged and defrauded man. Our opponents are preaching to you that the way for you to get good wages is

TO HAVE A PROTECTIVE TARIFF
to tax you on everything you earn, for that is what it comes to. I do not believe, I am no friend of violent means, but I tell you the laboring men organizations, when properly conducted and rightly managed, have done more to secure good wages to laboring men than all the tariff laws that have ever been or ever will be passed. Your way, then, to get good wages is not getting down on your knees to Congress and praying for high tariff. Your way to get good wages is to MAINTAIN YOUR MANHOOD.

Other people can form trusts, that word which has become so odious. O her people can do that. I would like to know why the men who produce all the wealth in this world cannot organize for their own protection. (Great applause.) Judge Thurman then spoke of the charge made by his political opponents that the Democratic Party is the enemy of the laboring man, and went on, at some length, to deny that imputation as he has done in other speeches. As he was closing his remarks, some one in the crowd called out for him

TO SAY SOMETHING ABOUT WEST'S

letter, to which the Judge replied: Ah I can say about the West letter is that if I had a boy and he was such a fool as to be entrapped, as West was, I would disown him. Whether West is a knave or a fool I don't know, but he is one or the other, too much to be a British representative at the City of Washington, and Grover Cleveland has told him so, and given him his walking papers. At 5:30 Judge Thurman and party left for Columbus.

Washington Whispers.

WASHINGTON, November 3.—In his report to the Secretary of the Treasury the fourth auditor says there is a deficiency of $146,050 in the appropriations for the pay of the navy, which was partially caused by the payment out of that fund of the claims settled under recent decisions of the Supreme Court for longevity and service on receiving ships.
